Giovanni Crostarosa Guicciardi

Graduated with honors from Luigi Bocconi University of Milan, accountant and auditor, he began his career in the M&A team and then in the Private Equity team in Akros.

He is a founding partner of Corbella Villa Crostarosa Guicciardi, a partnership specialized in valuation and forensic accounting. He carries out consultancy for institutional investors, banks, service companies and industrial both Italian and foreign.

He has always had a bias towards corporate governance and internal control systems matters. He has held and currently holds, often on behalf of institutional investors, several offices on boards of directors and boards of statutory auditors of Italian companies, both listed on the main market or on the AIM or unlisted, including banks (in groups supervised by the ECB), financial companies, asset manager and investment companies..
