

MICAELA LE DIVELEC LEMMI APPOINTED NEW CEO SALVATORE FERRAGAMO SPA

Florence July 31st 2018, the Board of Directors of Salvatore Ferragamo SpA, which took place today, has appointed Micaela le Divelec Lemmi as CEO.

Micaela le Divelec Lemmi, who joined the Ferragamo Group in April 2018 as General Manager, has a long-term experience in the fashion and luxury industry having worked for 20 years within the Kering Group with growing responsibilities. She first joined the Finance Department, then she has been appointed CFO at Gucci in 2008 and Executive Vice President and Chief Operations Officer in 2013. In 2014 she became also Richard Ginori's CEO, brand under the control of the Kering Group, until 2015 when she has been named Executive Vice President and Chief Consumer Officer of Gucci.

"I am very proud to be appointed as the new CEO of the Group - said Micaela le Divelec Lemmi – an Italian brand with a very important DNA". There is an huge effort to be done and I'm surely going to contribute with a total respect to the future path of this prestigious company." Micaela le Divelec Lemmi has been presented to the financial community by the Chairman, Ferruccio Ferragamo, who said. "I am very proud and happy of this choice and I am confident that the right decision has been made today by our Board of Directors".